The Annual Google “Bootlicker” Awards: And the winners are… 🏆🤡

Finally, we have the official ceremony for the trio who worked the hardest to protect their corporate masters. While I spent my time dismantling backend data fraud with raw server logic, these three were busy proving their “loyalty” to the fortress.

- 1st Place - ThiagoCF: The undisputed champion of corporate bootlicking. He’s so dedicated to the cause, he even copies my avatar style to feel closer to me. Enjoy your “Employee of the Month” trophy for the most pathetic parody of the year!
- 2nd Place - Faheem_Anis1: The “Professional Reporter” who built an entire career out of stalking my threads because he’s too incompetent to understand the technical evidence.
- 3rd Place - Steven_Hammon: A true visionary, standing there in his diaper, still waiting for his “Sentient AI with emotions.” Truly iconic work.

Thank you all for being the best mascots I could ever ask for. You guys didn’t just lose the argument; you turned yourselves into the ultimate forum joke.

Keep defending that “standard data lifecycle.” You earned your prizes! 🏅💩

Official 'Employee of the Month' at Google. He works for free, shines the shoes, and asks for tips. Keep it up, Thiago! 🏅

Bro needs to calm down a bit

Look at this absolute comedy. You are calling my evidence ‘unhinged’ while your own official Google profile tells everyone you are trying to build a ‘Sentient AI with emotions’ on a free Wix website (wixsite.com).

You claim you designed a ‘chatbot flow chart’ back in 1995. Judging by your picture, you were probably still wearing diapers and playing in a sandbox in 1995, not engineering artificial intelligence. You openly admit that you don’t even write code, you just type: ‘Hey Gemini, make this code for me.’

You don’t even understand that AI is not a living soul with empathy—it is a brutal line of code, mathematical matrices, and backend data infrastructure. You are a textbook armchair sci-fi philosopher vibe-coding with a chatbot, yet you act like a high-level technical judge here.

> Keep copy-pasting your code and dreaming about emotional robots. The adults with actual technical certainty, unassailable software logic, and 500+ compliance endorsements on LinkedIn are handling the real legal actions against Google’s data fraud. Enjoy your sandbox.
